

What are Farmers Market Healthy Bucks?

Last Updated Sunday, 28 February 2016 12:59

Advocates for Healthy Living, Inc. (sponsor of the San Dimas Farmers Market) has implemented the Farmers Market Healthy Bucks program for this market.

Healthy Bucks are currency that can be used at the San Dimas Farmers Market.

Currency will be available in the denomination of $1 HEALTHY BUCK. Currently, we are only accepting EBT, SNAP, Food Stamp.

$1 HEALTHY BUCK can only be used to purchase fresh food and produce from local farms and producers.

What can be purchased with the $1 HEALTHY BUCK

- Locally grown fruits, vegetables and herbs -- whatever is fresh!
- Cheese, honey, bread, pesto, jam, coffee beans and other foods that you're bringing home from the market
- Potted vegetable and herb plants

We are one of a few farmers markets that accept food stamps, EBT, SNAP in Los Angeles County, specifically our area.
